

DIGGING UP THE PAST

Can you match the words below to the blocks on the dig?

Manzi

TAP RIVER
WETLAND BATH
LITTER PIPE
DAM
FROG

It is the year 2200. Manzi is visiting Earth as he now lives on a spaceship. The Earth is not as we know it. It is a dry land without water, without life. The Earth is dead as it was not respected by humans. Manzi and a friend are on an archaeological dig and they have dug up items from the past. Can you work out what each item is saying to you? Write the answers in the blocks below. Use the words in the large heap of sand next to Manzi to help you.

My nose used to run when you turned me on.

My reeds would clean dirty water as it flowed through me.

Humans threw me on the ground and I landed up in rivers making them very sick.

I held back river water behind my concrete wall.

I used to move water underground from one place to another.

You plugged me to clean your body with water.

I used to carry water from the mountains to the ocean.

I used to live in a river but I croaked on very dirty water.
